

Podcast Disclaimer

The Inner Challenge Podcast, One Pagers, Facilitator Guides and Website (“Content”) represent the opinions of MJ Murray Vachon LCSW as well as her guests on the podcast and any other contributors to the Content. The Content is for informational purposes only and is not intended to be taken as or substituted for professional medical or mental health advice, diagnosis or treatment. Please consult your medical or mental healthcare professional for your mental and physical health questions. In no way does listening, reading, emailing or interacting on social media, or otherwise participating or receiving any Content, establish a therapist-client relationship. The use of this information and the materials linked to this podcast are at the users own risk.

Views and opinions expressed in the podcast and website are those of MJ Murray Vachon and do not represent any places where she works, past or present. No guarantee is given regarding the accuracy of any statements or opinions made in the Content. MJ makes every effort to ensure that the Content is accurate; If you find any errors in the Content, please send a message through the “contact” page at mjmurrayvachon.com

Privacy is of utmost importance. All people, places, and scenarios mentioned in the Podcast have been changed or left out to protect client confidentiality. MJ welcomes hearing from her listeners, but encourages them to use discernment and discretion to protect their confidentiality. MJ is not responsible and will not be held liable for what any listeners choose to share in the Content. Guests on the podcast will be solely responsible for what they choose to share, and MJ encourages them to protect the confidentiality of self and others.

This podcast and website should not be used in any legal capacity whatsoever, including but not limited to establishing “standard of care” in a legal sense or as a basis for expert witness testimony.

MJ does not receive any money from any agencies referenced in this podcast.

---